

Terms and conditions of the Film Network Berlin

1. Aims of the network

Film Network Berlin aims to support the networking of filmmakers who already have first experiences in professional filmmaking.

2. Membership

2.1 Members

The network is open to filmmakers who are based and work in Berlin (alumni of film schools, professional career changers) and who work behind the camera as the head of a creative department.

2.2 Rights and duties of members, data protection

Every member has the right to cancel the membership at any time without giving reasons. This must be done in writing (by e-mail or letter) to the network managers. In this case, the Film Network Berlin is obliged to delete the member's data immediately.

Each member has the right to confidential treatment of their data, which is used only for the internal purposes of the network. Conversely, each member commits themselves to not publicize the data of other network members without their consent or to not pass on data to third parties. The use of the network members' data for commercial purposes is expressly prohibited. Members who violate this will be immediately excluded from the network.

Each member has the duty to provide truthful information about themselves, their interests, and their commitment to the Film Network Berlin. There are no further membership obligations.

2.3 Membership costs and registration

Membership in the network is free of charge. Applicants can register online via the website www.filmnetzwerk-berlin.de.

2.4 Assessment of members, exclusion

After verifying the data provided, membership suitability will be assessed. The network managers will inform the applicant if they have been accepted into the network. If the application is unsuccessful, the network managers will provide the reason behind the rejection. Membership is only valid after written confirmation of admission.

The network managers reserve the right to subject members to an assessment. Members whose conduct or public reputation is contrary to the network's objectives or who can be shown to have given false information may be excluded from the network. The reasons for expulsion apply regardless of whether this information was already known to the network manager when the member registered or if it only became subsequently known.

A member will be notified of the expulsion in writing and the reasons for the expulsion will be stated. In the event of expulsion, the member's data in the database and in all other sections of the network will be deleted immediately and the access data blocked.

Membership in the network is initially limited until May 2022.

3. Public relations and marketing

Upon registration, each member agrees that they may be mentioned by name in the context of the network's public relations work, unless the member expressly opposes this mentioning.

The dissemination of a member's data — for example, from the member database, discussions, or chat forums — requires the explicit consent of each member in each individual case.

